

Aurora LASIK Modern LASIK Buying Guide

Congratulations! You've taken your first step toward investing in your vision and quality of life through Modern LASIK. Continue reading to find out more about the most popular ways to switch your vision correction budget from expensive contact lenses to a high-value Modern LASIK procedure - and save money in the process.

In Washington state, LASIK starts between $2500 - $3500 per eye, depending on technology, surgeon experience, guarantees and additional factors. Our patients typically report that the procedure pays for itself within 3-4 years if not sooner. We've even had patients report an immediate savings of up to $850/year simply by switching from costly daily contact lenses to an affordable Modern LASIK payment plan.¹

“Renting” vs. “Buying” 20/20 Vision

The Lifetime Costs of Contacts vs. Modern LASIK

The average monthly cost of contacts $45–$75.

Multiply this by the average number of years a person wears contact lenses (15–20 years).

You will spend $5,000–$10,000 MORE than the cost of LASIK.

Take the “Smart Phone” Approach: Payment Plans as Low as $58/mo²

Most of us don't outright buy the latest smartphone. We use a financing plan to make small monthly payments toward the purchase, while enjoying immediate use of our new technology.

Many of our patients take the same payment approach for LASIK. In fact, we with several different financial institutions to offer affordable payments for our Modern LASIK patients.

Depending on your preferences, you may like a $0-down option, a specific monthly payment amount or even an interest-free plan. We offer all 3 of these payment types, which we will review with you in detail at your appointment.

Tax-Free Options: Flex Spending Accounts (FSAs) and Health Savings Accounts (HSAs)

FSAs and HSAs are two of the most popular ways to pay for Modern LASIK at Aurora LASIK and save money at the same time. (Both of these are tax-free payment options).

A flex spending account (FSA) is funded automatically using pre-tax dollars from your paycheck, and it is established through your employer. A Health Savings Account (HSA) is different than an FSA in that an HSA is usually through your bank or financial institution. You typically deposit post-tax dollars, then deduct them when you do your taxes at the end of the year.

Both payment options are gladly accepted at Aurora LASIK.

Vision Correction vs. Other Monthly Expenditures
